Novato, CA 94948-6177

Dear Sir or Madam:

I received the enclosed notice that I may be included in a class action suit against NVIDIA in relation to a graphics processing unit or media and communications processor. I am writing to notify you that I have absolutely no interest in participating in any such suit, and I want to be excluded from the Class in The NVIDIA GPU Litigation, Case No. 08-cv-04312-JW.

I understand that I am expected to "state a product identification number of your notebook computer, such as the service tag number for notebook computers manufactured by Dell, the product identification number for notebook computers manufactured by HP, or the serial number for notebook computers manufactured by Apple". I am not sure which of my computers may have had the alleged defect, and in any event do not have the numbers for all of the Dell and Apple computers I have bought over the years. I did not ask to be included in this suit, and I do not intend to spend my time doing research in order to escape it. I do know that you cannot claim to represent me, or include me in a class, without my consent, and I do not give my consent. I trust that the same database that was used to generate the notice to me can be used to eliminate me from the class, and plaintiffs' counsel is ethically bound to remove me from the class as a result of this notice.

Sincerely,

R. Simmons

Dear Settlement Administrator,

I am the original purchaser of the two computers listed below, which were purchased for use by my sons and I. I hereby request that Philip Hensley, Ryan Hensley, and Stephen Hensley be EXCLUDED from the Class in The NVIDIA GPU Litigation, Case No. 08-cv-04312-JW, as to the TWO COMPUTERS:

1. Apple [REDACTED] with NVIDIA GPU and Serial Number of [REDACTED]
2. Apple [REDACTED] with NVIDIA GPU and Serial Number of [REDACTED]

Our two computers were produced with the NVIDIA GPU chip, but are not currently exhibiting the listed symptoms (at least not on a constant basis). However, I am quite FEARFUL that they will develop the problem at some point and then will be entirely broken and unusable as a result, which will cause financial detriment to my family.

Please note that I was strongly influential in convincing other consumers (over 10 people) to purchase this particular model of Apple Macbook Pro (MBP) during its sales period. As a result, I am all too aware that most of these computers (over 80%) have experienced the NVIDIA chip breakage and have had to get the chip replaced, even as recently as 6 months ago--so the chip is still capable of breaking many years after production/installation.

Nevertheless, I have always been a strong fan and believer in NVIDIA chips (apart from this defect) and I would like to think that the company will continue to stand behind its chips in the future (as it has done to some extent in regards to this chip problem thus far). However, this Class Action Lawsuit does not make any beneficial provision whatsoever for computers such as ours in the event of those "future" problems. Therefore, we are forced to exclude ourselves from this lawsuit.

It would have been better if this lawsuit had addressed and made decent provision for the future chip problems, so that NVIDIA was clear about its standing behind the repair of this chip. Or, if NVIDIA had agreed to do a complete RECALL to replace all the outstanding chips now, regardless of symptoms, assuming that the replacement chips don't have the defect as well.

To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing to exclude myself from the Class in The NVIDIA GPU Litigation, Case No. 08-cv-04312-JW.

I am only doing this because I purchased an extended warranty for my laptop and had the video card replaced, which means I don't qualify for this particular settlement. However, I'm disappointed that NVIDIA does not have to admit any wrongdoing and that people in my situation have no recourse.

When my NVIDIA video card went bad, my computer screen went completely blank, and I spent months of frustration with Dell Tech Support, having to convince them it really was the card, then hearing a variety of ridiculous stories from many different techs about how a replacement card was available, no it wasn't, it was on backorder, these cards all have problems, no they don't, etc., before they finally sent someone to my house with a replacement – only to have it be such an old card that the company no longer made a driver for it and I had to spend hours online searching for one. I finally found one on a gaming site.

Even now, I still have problems with my computer and feel that its source is from the overheating of the original video card, but again, this case provides no restitution for people in my position. Suffice to say, I will never buy another product from Dell or NVIDIA again.

Thank you for your time,

Christine Harvey

[REDACTED] Home phone number, [REDACTED]

I want the court to know that I want to be excluded from the Class settlement, The NVIDIA GPU Litigation, Case No. 08-cv-04312-JW. My computer, was an HP Serial number, [REDACTED] Model number, [REDACTED]

The only reason why I want to excluded is only because Best Buy credited me A laptop after 7 months my HP had all the problems mentioned in the letter. Distorted video on the notebook computer screen. Random lines on the notebook computer screen. Dropping wireless on and off. Black square on the computer screen. No video on the notebook computer screen even when the notebook computer is on. Etc.

If it wouldn't been because I bought 3 years insurance on this laptop I would still be on the Case settlement until the end. I have pictures, receipt when I first bought it in the box of the computer when I first bought it. I hope this case goes until the end, and I hope people win the case. I think this computer had problems over heating and many more. If in case they need to contact me they have the address above.

Truly yours.

Dear Sir,

By this letter I request to be excluded from the Class in the Subject Litigation pertaining to my defective HP [REDACTED] Notebook Personal Computer, S/N [REDACTED] Product [REDACTED]. I have already replaced my defective notebook with another make and model after HP refused my previous demands for a free repair or a prorated purchase price reimbursement. My decision to opt out is because the latter is not included in the proposed settlement agreement.

Your receipt acknowledgement is appreciated.

Sincerely,

John H. Langer

Settlement Administrator:

You didn't respond to my first letter (sent 2010.10.13), which asked if I could receive a replacement for my broken computer. Due to your silence, I am unable to determine if it safe for me to remain in this class action lawsuit. Therefore, I exclude myself from the class in "The NVIDIA GPU Litigation, Case No. 08-cv-04312-JW". I hope you will be more professional in the future and will respond to others' questions.

My computer's product identification number is unavailable. As I stated in my previous letter, I recycled the part of the computer's case that showed the product identification number. If you want my product identification number, you will have to subpoena HP for it, because they know it, and only they know it.

The remaining requested information is in the table below:

class excluded from	The NVIDIA GPU Litigation, Case No. 08-cv-04312-JW
product identification number	Unknown (see above)
name	Andrew Varner
address	[REDACTED]
telephone number	[REDACTED]
signature	[REDACTED]

My previous letter is attached, in case you simply lost it.

Settlement Administrator:

In 2006, I purchased an HP dv6040us (from the Pavilion dv60xx series), product number [REDACTED]. In 2007, it started showing a symptom exactly as described on the website: the screen was blank, even when the computer was on.

HP wouldn't repair it for free, and didn't give an estimate. A local repair company estimated the cost of repair to be $900. I couldn't afford to repair it, and the computer was completely unusable, so I recycled the computer. I kept the hard drive, to recover my data. I also kept the memory and the wifi card, since they could theoretically be used in a different computer. The majority of the computer no longer exists.

I don't have a receipt for the purchase of my computer, but HP has records of my calls and emails to have the computer repaired. Is there any way to recover anything from this settlement?

Re: "Opting out" of settlement action

To Whom This May Concern,

Please exclude me from the settlement action against NVIDIA in the NVIDIA GPU Litigation, Case No. 08-cv-04312-JW. My computer has not had any problems that were described at your website. It is still operational without any problems on 11-25-2010.

Computer was purchased 6-9-2008 as far as I know. It was a gift and given to me. It was made operational on 6-14-2008.
it is a HP Pavillion tx1000, further listed as tx1499us
